Fund Commentary and Activity | As of August 2022
Market Update

August was generally a negative month for global equity markets with ongoing global inflation concerns, interest rate hikes and the continued Russia military activity in the Ukraine. North American markets were generally weaker with the S&P500 Index down -4.24%, the NASDAQ was down -4.64% and the TSX TR Index down -1.61%. European markets were also negative as the EuroStoxx Index was down -5.15% and the FTSE down -1.87%. Asian markets were mixed as the Hang Seng was down -1.01%, the NIKKEI was up +1.04% and the Shanghai Index down by -1.57%. Prices on the 10 year US Treasury bond declined as yields moved from 2.65% to 3.20% by month's end. The Volatility index (VIX) rose from 21.33 to 25.87. Commodity price movements were negative as Oil (WTI) declined by 9% to $89.55 while Gold declined by over 3% to US$1,711. The Canadian dollar weakened by 3% during the month closing at $1.3130 against the US$.

Fund Update

Against that backdrop, the Kensington Alternative Strategies Fund declined with estimated returns of -0.47% (+0.05% YTD) for August. Compared against the TSX Index which fell by -1.61% (-7.19% YTD). The Fund's standard deviation of monthly returns remains low and the correlation to the TSX also continues to be low.

Our underlying managers' performance was negative for the month as 10 of the 16 managers were in negative territory. Many of the managers continue to be somewhat nervous of stretched equity market valuations and are running fairly flat books. Caution would seem to be at the forefront of managers' activity.

We believe that the Fund continues to be well positioned for these uncertain times. The Fund has now been operating for 131 months generating over 65 basis points per month on average with only 30 down months (about 80% monthly positive results). The balanced approach to the portfolio composition should allow the Fund to weather most storms. We also continue to investigate new managers to try to improve the composition of the Fund.
